

Blessed are you my friend, for we heard your prayers for your friend who's lost her daughter to us. You have also brought a question to us from one of your readers. She is asking about the subject of evil, I believe. I would like to address that today for you. The first and most important thing I need to say is that evil is a man construct and only exists in your world. It does not exist in the Kingdom of the Divine. The word evil is used many times in the transcripts that make the bible and other religious books.

Mankind wants to believe that in the same way that the Divine, or God rules the heavens, then an opposite rules hell. The Devil, however as referred to often.

Does the Devil exist? Yes.
But in the same context as the Divine exists.

God is the Divine force, the power for good. It is not a person taking human form.
Nor has the Divine such qualities as a personality or characteristics of human beings.

The Divine, God is a universal force of magnitude beyond anything else. It is a power that, without it, nothing could exist. Yes, nothing - even the force you know as evil could not exist without the Divine force.

Evil, or should I say, the force for evil has always been there. It fills the voids where the Divine does not. It therefore does not comply with the Divine forces and could not exist in a void without the Divine force, because no such void would exist.

You might wrongly believe that evil exists amongst human beings, perhaps feeding on the powers from the void. Perhaps there is some truth in that. However, evil people, no matter how evil they may be judged have the power of the Divine in them and around them. By not recognizing it in their actions only comes to suggest an evil force is working within them. I suggest that may be so. But I cannot explain it in such a way that would make sense, for this is another occasion where our limited language restricts my abilities to simplify this enough to satisfy a comprehensive answer.

I find a block in your mind's knowledge that makes this conversation difficult to get across to you. You have no evidence in your present knowledge to suggest you have had many lives before this one. Because you've no evidence, you fail to open up to the possibilities as being so. But trust me my friend, you have lived on earth many times in the past. Perhaps not as the person you are now, but the spirit has evolved. Your soul has experienced much and has so much more evolution ahead. How is this related to evil? To inflict pain on others, humans must first understand pain. So humans experience pain. And the same is so for hurt, misery,

dispondency, desolation, dispair and many other
feelings and emotions
that are of the negative nature. What if you were told that in a previous lifetime on earth, you were evil in your actions? How would you feel about that? Would it upset you? Would you feel better for knowing?

No. You have chosen in this lifetime to work with the Divine forces. You've chosen to appreciate the greater good of mankind and to live a life that reflects it. However, many people don't take that path. They live their lives without any thoughts or belief of the Divine forces. Many will suggest they don't believe in God, and that such things don't exist. But ask them if they believe in evil, or the devil and their answers will surprise you.

Evil is hugely a construct of mankind. A loss of people, word of recognition of the divine forces, word of a purpose, word of knowledge of the force known as the greater good. This is an environment that evil can exist within. Evil thoughts that lead to evil actions.

But here is the challenge. What you might think of as evil, may not be evil to someone else. The nearer you are to the God force, the more things you will consider as evil.

So yes, evil exists. And if you want to believe that there is some kind of universal intelligence overlooking that evil, then you might refer to it as a devil.

Finally, in the few minutes left to me on this session, may I explain what happens to evil people when they die.

It hurts so many people to hear this. All souls, all people, all times, beings are welcomed into God's kingdom, even those you consider evil. But that is because you are acting as the judge. God doesn't judge anyone.

Do those you consider evil live amongst you in this world? Yes they do. But they are not in your awareness because your soul has developed beyond that.

For the large my friend, evil is a force created by mankind and does not actually exist. Everyone born onto the earth has the God element within them.
That cannot be destroyed.

Your mind is not strong enough for me to combine on this occasion. It is thanks that you're with your cabiner that has maintained the energy
allowing us this length of time together. I would like to address

this question of evl, move over time. For now, I thank you for transcribing my voice. The audio will be sent to your friend
Vicky.
Good Day

Thank you spirit communicator. I remain
humble to learn.
